

Amanda Barry

UX/UI Designer

About Me

I am a creative mind looking to enhance experiences by turning ideas into beautiful things. My interest in art started in my early years with drawing and has grown in the Adobe Create Suite. A combination of my studies and passion for design has led me to pursue a graduate degree in Interactive Media to further my skillset. In my graduate program, I've acquired a variety of skills including methods to create the best user experience as possible. I am driven to contribute my hard work and creativity to future endeavors.
